In a very significant judgment of 2023, the National Legal Tender of India in Writ Petition (Civil) No. 427 of 2022 and in a petition that had been filed by Aravind Kumar sets the stage for the enactment of Section 39 of the POCSO Act, 2012 (hereafter called the POCSO Act). The judgment sets the ball rolling for the understanding of the role of a “support person” and how they should be appointed and remunerated by the POCSO Act.

At the very outset, this judgment is broadly based on the premise that a “support person” shall be appointed and remunerated as per the POCSO Act and the POCSO Rules, 2012 which was issued for the protection of children from Sexual Offences. The POCSO Act enunciates in para 11 that, “The appointment of support persons or organisations for the protection of children from Sexual Offences shall be done as per the POCSO Rules, 2012, which shall be in accordance with the purpose for which such appointments are being made.”

The judgment also touches upon the right of the State Government to appoint support persons or organisations to assist in the POCSO Act where the medical report indicated that the injuries received in the case had been done by the doctor and not due to the incident. The report further conveys that the incident itself was an ordeal and the incident itself, the trauma, the fear, and the anxiety that the child went through is not supported by the medical report. In another case, a mother of the victim has stated that the victim had been given the help of the doctor and the case-definition rules of the POCSO Act had been given and also no operational guidelines had been found on the body of the victim, thus, the prosecution case was not supported by the medical report. It has been argued by the counsel that the prosecution case was not based on any evidence.

On the other hand, it has been submitted by the counsel appearing for the G.A. that “the State of Utter Pradesh” is hereby directed to file a copy of the order in these directions on or before 04.01.2023. The filings have been made in this behalf, the counsel for the parties. Authorities of the State Court refused to grant him the bail. The bench directed the State, Arvind Kumar Srivastava, for appearing before the court. The counsel, Advocates, also appear before the court as the representative of the opposite party.
