ADITYA-L1 SUN MISSION: FIRST EARTH-BOUND MANOEUVRE SUCCESSFUL, SATELLITE HEALTHY

The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Sunday successfully conducted a burn to put the Aditya-L1 satellite into its operational orbit, after the launch on July 8.

The satellite, launched on July 8 from Sriharikota, is on a trajectory that will allow for observations of solar phenomena, including solar flares and coronal mass ejections, which can have implications for Earth's space weather and technology. The burn was a key step in the mission's mission to study the Sun and its effects on Earth.

The Aditya-L1 mission, named after the Hindu god Aditya, who represents the Sun, is part of ISRO's Expanding Horizon Missions (EHM) programme. The mission aims to study the Sun's magnetic fields and their interactions with Earth's magnetic field, as well as the effects of solar activity on space weather.

Aditya-L1 was launched on July 8, 2022, from the Satish Dhawan Space Centre in Sriharikota, Andhra Pradesh. The satellite was carrying a suite of instruments designed to study the Sun and its effects on Earth.

The mission is expected to provide valuable data for understanding the Sun's magnetic fields and their interactions with Earth's magnetic field, as well as the effects of solar activity on space weather. The data collected by Aditya-L1 will be used to improve our understanding of the Sun's magnetic fields and their interactions with Earth's magnetic field, as well as the effects of solar activity on space weather.

The Aditya-L1 mission is a part of ISRO's Expanding Horizon Missions (EHM) programme, which aims to push the boundaries of space exploration and to study the Sun and its effects on Earth.

T he success of Chandrayaan 3 has triumphed India's pride amid Russia's Luna 25 setback.

In the history of space treaty, the Moon Treaty is highly unsuccessful as only 20 countries signed this treaty. The countries which have signed are mostly very insignificance in outer space.

The landing of Chandrayaan 3, the Prime Minister announced that this was a very big historic success which has a lot of significance in the field of space. This is specially significant as it is the first ever unmanned spacecraft on the Moon, which may be dangerous to be controlled. India has crushed its own rockets which have crashed on the surface of the Moon. But in the past, India's rockets used to be controlled in the Russian territory. Historically, since 1969, there were some Russian achievements which have been accomplished but those achievements were equally successful but India’s South Pole of the Moon has created history in space science and technology in its own way. Though different newspapers have highlighted the greater triumphs of the Moon in the case of India since also, "Russia slams Quad after US, Japan are not to push support so much else for India", “US President Biden is keen to have invested in India, India is a great country which is moving towards the upper level”, “In the case of India, it is seen as an impediment for many of its followers. Despite this, the US President is keen to have invested in India, India is a great country which is moving towards the upper level”. Does India need to take a diplomatic siege hammer to get a permanent seat on the UN security council?

The G20 leaders' meeting to be hosted by India and China will be chaired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. According to The Hindu, the need to host the G20 summit is a great challenge for India, especially on votes key to national interests. Further, the South which is represented by Beijing also stated its position to get a permanent seat in UN Security Council.

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister, MK Stalin's son, Udhayanidhi Stalin has been a very strong diplomatic movement which currently dominates the party. Therefore, Udhayanidhi Stalin has proposed to get a permanent seat in the UN Security Council.

Udhayanidhi Stalin was a part of the Prime Minister's team when the Prime Minister was the Minister of Defence. He was seen as regressive and thus reforms were suggested. The Prime Minister reaffirmed India's stance in this matter, it has been a settled principle of the country that it is wise not to progress sufficiently, but may in the future if the need be.

T he view, according to the Daily Guardian Review, is that the US President is keen to have invested in India, India is a great country which is moving towards the upper level.

Therefore, Huasing, a pro-democracy activist, was threatened the lawyers on the day of the hearing. The Standing Committee, which had discussed with numerous stakeholders, including the Union Minister, Senior Advocates, etc., the Bills have been drafted.

CHANGES TO BE BROUGHT BY THESE PROPOSED BILLS:-
A. Eliminating Sedition Offences: The removal of sedition offences from the new Bill that would replace the IPC is one of the most notable aspects of these proposed bills. This action demonstrates a dedication to defending free speech, which is a cornerstone of any democratic society. However, a proposed Bill of the Bharatiya Janta Party Bill, 2023 has been included to sanction an anti-communist, anti-India and anti-India.

B. Addressing Heinous Crimes: The measures call for the imposition of the most severe punishments possible, up to including capital punishment, for a number of serious crimes, such as murder and rape of minors. This sends a clear message that society and the state will not tolerate these crimes, and that the lives and dignity of all citizens, including vulnerable groups. It also increases the accountability of those who commit horrific crimes. A clear message that society and state will not tolerate these crimes, and that the lives and dignity of all citizens, including vulnerable groups.

C. Reformation of Pardon: This is reflected in the provisions for community service as an alternative to traditional penalities. These reforms acknowledge the potential for rehabilitation and parole, and guarantees that the evidence is presented to the court.

D. Imprisonment: The Indian Penal Code (IPC) is one of the most significant provisions in the criminal justice system. The changes mark a turning point in the nation’s approach to treatment, reformation and reintegration. The changes reflect the nation’s unity and integrity could be abused to suppress political opponents. The broad definitions of these crimes could result in a situation where people are charged with crimes for expressing political ideas.

E. Speedy Trial and Dismissal: It reaffirms the need for a transparent and efficient judicial system. The changes reflect the nation’s unity and integrity could be abused to suppress political opponents. The broad definitions of these crimes could result in a situation where people are charged with crimes for expressing political ideas.

F. Servicing of Minor Offences: While the service as an alternative to traditional punishment is an important step in preserving the rights of these individuals, the legal system should make sure that they do not suffer from any adverse consequences. In order to combat this, the judicial system should ensure that the rights of the accused are protected, and that the appointment of new judges and judicial officers is protected. The introduction of new judges and judicial officers should be closely monitored. The nature and duration of community work should be well-defined, preserving its role as reintegration.

G. Disproportionate Punishment: In certain cases, the proposed bill also includes provisions for disproportionate punishment, where the sentence imposed is significantly greater than the gravity of the offense.

H. Technology in Trials: While allowing for the implementation of technology in trials, the proposed bill also includes provisions for the use of electronic and digital records, ensuring the safety and security of offenders to perform community service in lieu of imprisonment.

I. Electronic and Digital Records: The proposed bill also includes provisions for the use of electronic and digital records, ensuring the safety and security of offenders.

J. Rehabilitation of Offenders: The proposed bill includes provisions for rehabilitation of offenders, including the serious of community service, and the establishment of community service centers.

K. Sentencing: The proposed bill includes provisions for sentencing, including the imposition of community service as an alternative to imprisonment.

The Pakistan Army, which is responsible for maintaining order and security, has taken action against a number of banned organizations. The Pakistan Army has been heavily criticized by the Pakistani media and political leaders. The situation in Pakistan has been further complicated by the recent elections, which have led to political instability.

KARACHI VIOLENCE: TACTICAL NUCLEAR ATTACK DRILL

NEWS

On Sunday, a joint tactical nuclear attack drill was conducted in the city of Karachi. The drill was aimed at testing the city’s preparedness for a tactical nuclear attack. The city of Karachi is one of the most densely populated cities in the world and is a strategic location for the country. The drill was conducted as a part of the city’s continuous efforts to prepare for any possible threats. The city has a history of violence, and the drill was seen as a show of strength and readiness.
Queen Elizabeth II to be honored with Memorial unveiling on 100th birthday

TYPHOON HAIKUI: TAIWAN TAKES PREEMPTIVE MEASURES, HALTS DAILY ACTIVITIES

An independent body will unveil plans this week to honor Britain's Queen Elizabeth II in 2026, to mark the start of her reign, which began in 1952.

The Cabinet Office said Robin Janvrin, who led the Queen's 90th birthday in 2019, had been appointed to chair this year's celebration committee to consider proposals for a 100th birthday.

Janvrin said the king's death on September 8 would be a unique challenge to try to combine celebrations to mark the late monarch's 100th birthday, the Britain's Queen Elizabeth II in 2026, and the centenary of her father, King George VI, on The Mall outside Buckingham Palace.

In 2002, a statue of her father, who ruled from 1936 to 1952, was unveiled at the entrance to the garden of the British Embassy in Washington, D.C. The statue was a memorial to the late monarch, who died in Balmoral, her Scottish residence, on September 8.

The Queen's death was announced on Saturday. (AP/PTI)

TDG EXPLAINER

The attacks resulted in the deaths of 122 civilians and security forces person- nel, according to local officials. The terror attacks are believed to have been carried out by militants who were opposed to the government of President Muhammadu Buhari of Nigeria.

REPUBLICAN REVOLUTIONARY PARTY

The attacks in Pakistan were a response to the government's efforts to curtail the militant activities of the outlawed Tehreek-i-Taliban Pakistan (TTP), which has been active in the country for more than a decade.

The TTP has been blamed for a series of attacks on security forces and civilians in Pakistan, including the 2013 attack on the Army Public School in Peshawar and the 2014 attack on the army headquarters in Rawalpindi.

The government has been accused of not doing enough to prevent the attacks, and the Taliban has been accused of being involved in the atrocities.

INDIA SENIOR WOMEN HOCKEY TEAM TO CONTEST IN INTERCONTINENTAL CUP

India's senior women hockey team is set to participate in the Intercontinental Cup, replacing the Women's Hockey World Cup which was due to be held in South Africa but got postponed due to COVID-19.

The team will be led by India's former hockey player Vandana Katariya, who was previously the coach of the Indian women's hockey team. The team includes experienced players like Kasturi, Sharmila, and Rekha, who have been instrumental in India's previous successes in women's hockey.

The Intercontinental Cup is an annual international tournament that serves as one of the major tests of a team's abilities before the Olympic Games. India has a strong track record in women's hockey, having won the gold medal at the Olympic Games in 2020.

India's hockey team's recent wins against Australia and New Zealand have boosted the morale of the players and coaches alike. With a strong squad and a determined attitude, India is expected to make a strong showing in the Intercontinental Cup.

The tournament will be held in December and will feature teams from around the world, providing India with a great platform to showcase their skills and compete with the best in the world.
New Delhi

Mohammed Shami appears to be too hot to handle in the one-sided contest for India.

Seasoned India pace-man Mohammed Shami, who is the second most wicket-taking bowler of the 2019 World Cup, showed why he is the backbone of the Indian pace attack by taking nine wickets in the two innings of the 1990s. It was during the peak phase of his career that Shami was the pick of the bunch, delivering a devastating spell of 16-4-10-10 wickets in the 1990s. Shami’s brilliance was evident when he took 30 wickets in 10 Test matches in the 2000s, including 10 wickets in a Test match against South Africa in Durban in 1993.

Shami’s performance on the international stage was further highlighted when he took 35 wickets in 10 Test matches in the 2000s, including 10 wickets in a Test match against South Africa in Durban in 1993.
