The ruling Congress in Rajasthan almost five years and de facto Minister visited Jodhpur after almost five years, PM Modi says that Congress government did not walk the talk in the state. “In five years, Congress government did not talk with the state government. The issue which he raised continued here round the clock...Have you heard about ‘Dalit Diary’ People say that the diary contains every single word of Congress corruption...Tell me, who should be the accuser and who should be the accused in the open? Should the accused not be penalized?” Will the Congress government argue in its diary come open for the first time to the country, which has to have to form a RJP government,” he said.

Rajiv Gandhi was sacked as minister by Gehlot soon after he talked in the state assembly about “atrocities against women” to the state. Gehlot claimed that the “red diary” contained records of “misdeeds” of the Congress government and that he had retrieved it from the residence of an associate of the Chief Minister. He further added that there are many perceptions of “irregularities” in the Rajasthan Congress party. PM Modi further said that “irregularity...will have to work continuously to eliminate the political and constitutional sins of the Congress party in the Rajput land”.

PM Modi invoked the Congress, saying that the Congress has not connected with farmers, youth, and artists. They are only interested in political power. He accused the Congress of providing protection to the people and institutions like the Archaeological Survey of India and the Central government of India and to incite dissatisfaction and endanger national security.

AUSTRALIA ON TRACK TO SET WORLD RECORD FOR TALLEST WOODEN TOWER

The Country's tallest wooden building, now under construction, is set to become the tallest wooden structure in the world.

The building, known as the C6 Tower, is being constructed using a combination of prefabricated timber panels and cross-laminated timber (CLT) panels, which are being manufactured off-site.

The C6 Tower is expected to reach a height of over 120 meters, surpassing the current record holder, the M200, which stands at 105 meters.

The building is being constructed at the University of Manchester, where it will serve as a research facility for sustainable building practices.

The project is part of a wider effort to promote sustainable construction and to demonstrate the potential of timber as a construction material.

The C6 Tower is expected to be completed in 2023, and will serve as a model for future sustainable building projects.

Fukushima plant begins second radioactive wastewater release

The Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power plant has begun releasing radioactive wastewater into the Pacific Ocean for the second time.

The release, which started on August 24, is part of a plan to dispose of about 1.5 million cubic meters of radioactive wastewater that has accumulated at the plant since the 2011 disaster.

The Fukushima plant was damaged in the 2011 tsunami, leading to the release of radioactive material into the environment.

The second release follows a small release of radioactive wastewater in December 2021.

While the release is expected to have minimal impact on the environment, some environmental groups are concerned about the potential for radioactivity to spread further.

The cocktail night at an Indian wedding is a moment of grace and entertainment, where style meets centre stage. This occasion calls for an outfit that seamlessly blends tradition with modernity, exuding sophistication and charm. As you prepare to make a dancing appearance, here are inspired outfit ideas to ensure you shine bright at the cocktail nood of an Indian wedding.

1. Classic Saree – Embrace the timeless beauty of a saree with a contemporary twist. Opt for a pre-draped saree gown or a fusion saree paired with an embellished blouse. Experiment with rich fabrics like velvet and silk to add opulence. For a fusion that scores sophistication, consider a contemporary pant suit. This ensemble combines the grace of a saree with the comfort of pants, offering a unique blend of tradition and modernity. Perfect for the glamorous cocktail night, a saree in sheer fabric like chiffon or organza with hand embroidery can add that effect of a moonlit night. Experiment with draping or a stylish belt at your waist to enhance your silhouette.

2. Lehenga – Traditional yet contemporary, lehengas are a great pick for cocktail parties. Create an enchanting aura with a hand-embroidered lehenga in pastel hues or striking shimmer shades. In addition to this, you can also make a statement with a glamorous lehenga paired with a stylish choker top. Choose a lehenga adorned with intricate embroidery work; for a quirky, complement your attire with a chic crop top for a modern touch. Whether it’s a saree or a lehenga, a pair of cocktail heels is a must-have to complete your look. You can jazz up your look by pairing your creation with a net dupatta, embellished mirrors, or embroidery. This fusion of styles creates a unique and captivating appearance. If you are looking for a sophisticated look, opt for an embroidered moonstone or silver saree.

Cocktail nights are all about glamour and fun! In dupion or satin fabric, sustainable and custom made-to-order outfits. Whether you opt for a classic sari, a dapper Indo-Western suit, or an elegant lehenga, remember, the key to a stunning cocktail outfit lies in finding a style that resonates with your taste.

HOW NUDE AND PINK LIPSTICK IS BECOMING A TRENDS NOWADAYS

Fashion and beauty trends are like the ultimate power couple, and nude and pink lipsticks are their secret weapon. Why? Because these shades are universally flattering – they effortlessly match every skin tone and outfit, making them the ultimate crowd-pleasers. Plus, they’ve been the go-to choice of fashion-forward folks for ages, perfectly complementing a rainbow of styles and color palettes. This versatility makes them appealing to a broad audience. In fact, Pink and nude shades are often associated with qualities like femininity, approachability, and youthfulness, which can boost self-esteem and mood. A perfect synergy of self-expression.

The rise of nude and pink lipsticks is a major trend in the beauty world. It’s like we’re moving away from those bold, attention-grabbing lip colors, leaning towards a more natural and understated vibe. Gone are the days of super bold, in-your-face lip colors. Now, it’s all about that natural, effortless vibe. Nude shades are like the little black dress of lipsticks. They just work for everyone, no matter your skin tone. They give you this timeless, classic look that’s perfect for any occasion. And then there’s pink – it’s like an instant mood-lifter. It adds this cute, fresh pop of color that can brighten up your whole face. Nude and pink lipsticks enhance your features without stealing the show, which aligns with the whole “effortlessly chic” vibe.

So, whether you’re a makeup enthusiast or just someone looking to enhance your everyday look, it’s clear that nude and pink lipsticks are here to stay. They’re like the dependable friends in your makeup bag – always ready to make you look and feel your best!

BOTOX AND BEYOND

THE TRUTH ABOUT CELEBRITY ANTI-AGING PROCEDURES IN INDIA

In the land of rich cultural heritage and vibrant diversity, India’s fascination with celebrity culture is known no bounds. As we admire the glitz and glamour of Bollywood stars and TV personalities, one question lingers in the back of our minds: how do they manage to maintain their eternally youthful appearance? The answer lies in the world of anti-aging procedures, where Botox plays center stage. However, it’s time to peel back the layer of gossip and unveil the truth about celebrity anti-aging procedures, exploring the realities that go far beyond just Botox.

Botox, a cosmetic treatment that has garnered immense popularity worldwide, is no stranger to India. Derived from the bacterium Clostridium botulinum, Botox works by temporarily paralyzing the muscles to stop the involuntary contraction that causes wrinkles and fine lines. This means that Botox has garnered immense popularity among celebrities and the general public alike due to its quick and non-invasive nature, delivering visible results without the need for surgery.

In India, just like in Hollywood, Botox has become synonymous with elixirs of time and achieving flawless beauty. But let’s get one thing straight – Botox is not some magical fountain of youth. It’s simply a tool used to address certain aesthetic concerns. The pressure to look younger, fresher and smoother is a constant that drives many individuals to explore anti-aging treatments. Celebrities swear by laser treatments that can address skin conditions, pigmentation irregularities, and stimulate collagen production, promoting a more youthful complexion.

Chemical Peels: A tried and tested approach anti-aging. Celebrities swear by laser treatments that can address skin conditions, pigmentation irregularities, and stimulate collagen production, promoting a more youthful complexion.

Facelifts and Surgical Procedures: Though less common, some celebrities do opt for surgical procedures like facelifts to achieve more drastic and long-lasting results. These procedures involve tightening and repositioning the underlying tissues to give the face a more youthful appearance. Skin-care Regimens: Not all celebrities resort to invasive procedures. Many follow rigorous skincare regimens involving high-quality products, facials, and regular visits to dermatologists to maintain their youthful glow.

It’s important to recognise that not all celebrities go to extreme lengths or engage in expensive procedures. Many only use Botox occasionally to smooth wrinkles, while others adopt a more holistic approach, incorporating healthy lifestyle choices, a balanced diet, and regular exercise into their anti-aging regimens.

Botox may be one tool in the vast array of anti-aging procedures available to celebrities and the public alike. While these interventions can yield noticeable results, they are not a magic fix. Nor should they be the only measure of anti-aging. A healthy lifestyle, balanced diet, regular exercise, and genuine care for one’s skin are key.

Dr. Monica Kapoor

Dr. Monica Kapoor is currently doing research on anti-aging treatments that tend to evolve over time. They take cues from fashion, social media, and celebrity vibes. Lately, the name of the game is ‘less is more,’ and that’s where our trusty pink and nude lip colors step in. Pink whiskers warmth, comfort, and serenity, giving your face that cute ‘I’ve got this’ feeling. Meanwhile, nude shades bring the timeless, natural look into the spotlight. Lighter shades like pink can make lips appear fuller, contributing to a youthful and fresh look, which is highly desirable. It’s like a beauty trend evolution that’s all about embracing your inner minimalist chic.

FAKE NEWS SOURCES ON SOCIAL MEDIA NEED TO BE CALLED OUT AND SHAMED - NITHYA MENON

In this exclusive chat with The Daily Guardian, the actor talks about her career, personal life and more. Here are some excerpts from the conversation.

Q. Nithya Menon was an engineering undergrad where she was an entertainment club member and social media junkie. What use did it all serve?

Nithya Menon: It was the idea they told me in one line— a small town girl from Rajamundry wants to start a bar. In my mind, I had the visual of a conservatively dressed girl serving drinks at a bar, wearing the village area in Rajamundry— those visuals were not something that I would have thought about. What I thought was an interesting visual.

Q. When you do a series, do you expect the kind of positive response from the audience that you’re seeing now?

Nithya Menon: I wasn’t really sure what it can happen. I don’t really care about how you’re received, at that moment you’re so involved in making it.

Q. You’re one of the few actors who continue and never looks at whether there’s a director who’s telling you what to do. Is it interesting for someone who is so self-aware? You’re not driven by fame or money, isn’t it?

Nithya Menon: (Laughs) No, it’s not. I always want to maintain a balance of career and personal life. The profession is a by-product of who I am.

Q. We’re seeing films, OTT and television simultaneously. How do you juggle all these? Can you tell us?

Nithya Menon: It is a very organic process— simple and spontaneous process. Life works in ways that one cannot control. The question is why every- one sees so many boxes— why should I do this or not do that, according to the media, etc. I don’t see it that way.

Q. In October, your Malavishap’s reliving ‘Chester-Hanley’ for a bit of a conservatively dressed girl serving drinks at a bar, wearing the village area in Rajamundry— those visuals were not something that I would have thought about. What I thought was an interesting visual.

India's women's compound team's success at the 19th Asian Games on Thursday. The Indian archery team clinched its fifth title, with men's and women's archers setting a new record.

The scores were locked 10-10 before the Indian team won 10-7 to secure a medal.

India's archery team won the men's bronze while the women's team won silver.

Indian archer Abhishek Verma, who clinched the men's individual gold medal, said: "It's a wonderful feeling to have won a title for my country and to have contributed to the team's success."
A remarkable part of 273 runs came in a single partnership that overshadowed England’s, the reigniting of the region’s cricketing stars, but Conway and Rashid had the nerve to make sure that wasn’t the case. It was a match that made a mockery of the boundary count. Both scores were centuries, but none was declared player of the match.

England’s performance upstaged that of their opponents. Conway, Rashid, Commonwealth, demolished the bowlers. Chris Woakes con- ceded 69 runs from 10 overs, while Sam Curran began with two maiden overs, only to watch wickets fall like dominoes.
