A rising star \textbf{Deepak Choubey} in West Bengal to represent the Congress in the upcoming Lok Sabha elections. Choubey, who is contesting from the state's Durgapur constituency, said that he was not afraid of losing the support of the party's leadership for his decision.

"If the party leadership is not satisfied with my decision, I will resign," Choubey told reporters. "I am fully committed to the party and its ideology, and I am ready to face any consequences that may arise from my action."

Choubey's decision comes after several other Congress leaders in the state have announced their resignations or announced their support for the Trinamool Congress (TMC), the ruling party in the state.

Punjab Congress president Capt. V.K. Dhillon on Tuesday resigned from the party and returned his nomination in the upcoming Lok Sabha election from the Faridkot constituency.

"I have decided to step down as the president of the Punjab Congress and return my nomination," Dhillon said in a statement.

"I have been associated with the Congress for a long time and have spent my entire political career in the party. However, I have come to the conclusion that it is in the best interests of the party and the people of Punjab that I step down as the president and return to active politics.

"I will continue to fight for the interests of the people of Punjab and the Congress party and will work for the betterment of the state.

Dhillon's resignation comes after several other Congress leaders in the state have announced their resignations or announced their support for the Bhartiya Janata Party (BJP), the ruling party in the state.

"Our party is going through a difficult phase and I believe that it is important for me to step down as the president and return to active politics," Dhillon said.

Dhillon's resignation is expected to have a significant impact on the Congress party in Punjab, which is facing a tough challenge from the ruling BJP in the state. The party is currently leading in several key constituencies in the state and is expected to win a majority in the upcoming election.

Dhillon's resignation is also likely to have an impact on the upcoming election in the state, as the Congress party is currently led by Captain Amarinder Singh, who has been under severe pressure from the BJP and other opposition parties in the state.

"I will continue to fight for the interests of the people of Punjab and the Congress party and will work for the betterment of the state," Dhillon said.

Anantnag-Rajouri poll: Date rescheduled to May 25

The Election Commission of India (EC) on Tuesday revised the polling schedule for the 3rd Phase of the 2019 Lok Sabha elections in view of the security concerns in Anantnag-Rajouri constituency in Kashmir. The elections are now scheduled for May 25.

The EC order said, “The order is being issued in view of the security and law and order situation prevailing in the Anantnag and Rajouri areas of the Kashmir valley and due to the security concerns which has been expressed to the Commission by the government.”

It is ordered that the elections for the 3rd Phase of Lok Sabha elections will be held on May 25.

The EC explained that the delay in the polls “will afford more time to the security forces to reposition and prepare for the polls.”

Meanwhile, the EC also revised the schedule for bypolls in five Lok Sabha constituencies in Himachal Pradesh and Puducherry.

Delhi Police nab three persons for IPL match fixing

The Delhi Police has arrested three persons in connection with a match-fixing case related to the Indian Premier League (IPL). The arrests were made after a team of Delhi Police officers conducted searches at the residences of the accused in connection with the ongoing IPL tournament. The accused were held on charges of betting on the outcome of IPL matches.

No relief to Manish Sisodia as court dismisses bail pleas

The Delhi High Court on Monday dismissed the bail petitions of Manish Sisodia, the deputy chief minister of Delhi, and four others, including a former excise officer, who were arrested in connection with the Delhi scapegoat case.

Sisodia and the others had challenged the validity of their arrest and sought to discharge their bail applications. The court, however, refused to grant their bail and adjourned the matter for further hearing.

Sisodia had been arrested on March 14 in connection with a case related to the use of public money for political purposes. The Delhi Police had alleged that Sisodia, along with other officials, had misused public funds during the preparation of a campaign event for the Delhi Assembly elections in 2020.

The Delhi High Court heard the matter on Monday and rejected the bail applications, stating that there was sufficient grounds to believe that the accused had committed the offenses for which they were arrested. The court also noted that the investigation was still ongoing and that the accused were likely to influence witnesses or tamper with evidence if granted bail.

The court adjourned the matter to April 11, allowing the parties to file additional submissions.

SC questions timing of Kejriwal’s arrest

The Supreme Court on Tuesday commented on the decision of the Delhi Government to arrest AAP leader Arvind Kejriwal on charges of sedition. The court expressed concern over the timing of the arrest, particularly in the context of the upcoming elections.

The court noted that the arrest was made on the same day that the Delhi Assembly had passed an anti-terror law, which was seen as a precautionary measure ahead of the polls. The court asked whether the timing of the arrest was motivated by political considerations.

The court also questioned the Government’s decision to conduct a raid on the Chief Minister’s residence and to press charges against him under sections 124A and 505 of the Indian Penal Code.

The court expressed concern over the impact of the arrest on the democratic process and the functioning of the judiciary. The court also asked whether the Government had taken into account the rights of the accused and the principles of natural justice.

The court adjourned the matter and indicated that it would hear the matter on April 18, 2024.
Global gold demand rose by 3 per cent year-on-year to 1,366 tonnes in Q1 2024, marking the strongest first quarter since 2016, according to World Gold Council’s Gold Demand Trends report.

The demand for the yellow metal, excluding over-the-counter sales, fell 5 per cent to 1,303 tonnes as compared to the same period of 2023.

Healthy investment, persistent buying by central banks, and higher demand from Asian buyers helped drive the gold price to a record quarterly average of US$2,070 per ounce, 10 per cent higher year-on-year to 893 tonnes, a record first quarter.

Central banks continued to buy gold, adding 200 tonnes to official gold holdings during the quarter. Turning to investment demand, bar and coin investment increased 3 per cent year-on-year, remaining steady at the same levels from the fourth quarter of 2023 at 312 tonnes.

Global jewellery demand remained resilient, despite record high prices, only falling 2 per cent year-on-year to 351 tonnes, as some investors moved to bar and coin investment as a response to the pandemic.

While Western and Eastern investors exhibited different behaviour, Western gold buying underpinned demand for gold. In addition, demand for gold in technology recovered in Q1.

The LBMA (PM) gold price averaged a record US$2,070/oz in Q1 – 10% higher y/y and 5% higher q/q. Gold scaled new heights in March, closing the quarter at US$2,214/oz.

"Number of factors are contributing to the higher price as an opportunity to take profits. "Since March, the gold price has climbed to all-time highs, despite traditional headwinds of a strong USD and interest rates that are proving to be higher for longer," said Street.

Raaj Bhasha or Maatri Bhasha?

The language of the 'illiteracy' and the language of 'love'. The language of the 'illiteracy' is 'Maatri Bhasha' and the language of 'love' is 'Raaj Bhasha'. Both are involved in the progress and development of the language, and it is seen that 'Maatri Bhasha' contributes in larger measure.

It is observed that Raaj Bhasha and Maatri Bhasha both have their roles in the language of the 'illiteracy'. The language of 'love' is Raaj Bhasha and the language of 'freedom'. The Raaj Bhasha has its roots in the language of the 'Illiteracy'.

However, there are also those who think that the difference between Raaj Bhasha and Maatri Bhasha is not very great. They believe that both languages are used in almost all fields of life, whether in social status, and money, or in the corridors of Bollywood. The Raaj Bhasha and Maatri Bhasha have used the song 'emotionally' with the next lines after the song in the movie, he was the lead actor but also the producer.

How learning platforms can help students get the best results in CUET?

The landscape of higher education in India is seeing a significant transformation driven by EdTech platforms. These tools are gradually changing the way students learn, becoming instrumental in the success of educational institutions. EdTech platforms offer a competitive advantage to students who choose to partake in their offerings. The Union Cabinet, by bringing forward the National Education Policy (NEP-2020), can pave the way for educational institutions and offline coaching centres, the impact of EdTech platforms on education outcomes is highly significant. EdTech platforms offer specialized learning tools and resources to assist students in preparing for exams like the CUET. With the advent of edtech solutions, the impact of EdTech platforms on educational institutions and coaching centres is highly significant, and their influence cannot be overlooked.

EdTech platforms provide personalization of learning experiences to students preparing for the CUET. With the CUET being a crucial exam for students aspiring to join undergraduate programs, the right platform can make a significant difference in their preparation journey.

Here’s how EdTech platforms can benefit students preparing for the CUET:

1. Detailed Performance Analysis: EdTech platforms offer detailed performance analysis to students preparing for the CUET. This helps students identify their strengths and weaknesses, allowing them to focus on areas that require improvement. Platforms like Exam Guru and Unimonks provide detailed performance analysis, enabling students to analyze their progress and improve in areas where they need it the most.

2. Revision: EdTech platforms provide revision materials and resources, helping students revise effectively before the exam. Platforms like Exam Guru and Unimonks offer comprehensive revision materials that students can use to prepare for the CUET.

3. Exam Guru: Exam Guru stands out with its well-designed coaching, providing students with comprehensive understanding of the CUET. By making use of AI-driven and smart tools, Exam Guru offers personalized learning experiences to students, allowing them to learn at their own pace.

4. Unimonks: Unimonks is a popular EdTech platform offering comprehensive learning landscapes, distinctively focusing on teaching methods and approaches that cater to the needs of students. Unimonks provides detailed learning paths and study plans, ensuring students are well-prepared for the CUET.

5. Mathison’s 2021 Diversity Hiring Study revealed that 62% of underrepresented groups said they were not receiving the hiring process. There seems to be a lot of a holistic approach to recruitment that can break the barriers and cultivate the organization. Holistic recruiting approaches are key to improving the diversity of employees at our organizations. It is important to ensure that the recruitment methods employed are inclusive and supportive of all candidates, including those from underrepresented groups. Inclusion is the key to attracting diverse talent and building a team that reflects the diversity of the organization.

How can HR leaders ensure that their recruitment strategies are inclusive and supportive of all candidates?

1. Be aware of biases: HR leaders must be aware of any unconscious biases that they might have, as they can affect the decision-making process.

2. Create a diverse and inclusive workplace culture: HR leaders should strive to create a culture where all employees feel valued and respected.

3. Empower employees: HR leaders should empower employees to take ownership of the recruitment process, ensuring that it aligns with the organization’s diversity goals.

4. Implement diversity and inclusion training: HR leaders should prioritize diversity and inclusion training for all employees to foster a culture of inclusivity.

5. Review and revise recruitment processes: HR leaders should regularly review and revise their recruitment processes to ensure they are inclusive and supportive of all candidates.

6. Measure and track progress: HR leaders should measure and track the progress of their diversity and inclusion initiatives, setting clear goals and benchmarks.

7. Seek feedback from candidates: HR leaders should seek feedback from candidates, ensuring that their recruitment process is inclusive and supportive of all candidates.

In conclusion, HR leaders must prioritize diversity and inclusion in their recruitment strategies to attract a diverse and talented workforce that can drive the organization’s success.

The right choice depends on the goals, and the environment they wish their team to embody. Thus, it’s imperative for HR leaders to partner with recruitment firms and integrate DEI into their hiring practices. And for those aiming to cultivate the culture, HR leaders need to be aware of the importance of diversity and inclusion in the recruitment process. Further, there needs to be a focus on making the company look, maybe their influence extends beyond merely the hiring process. There needs to be a more holistic approach to recruitment that can break the barriers and cultivate the organization. Holistic recruiting approaches are key to improving the diversity of employees at our organizations. It is important to ensure that the recruitment methods employed are inclusive and supportive of all candidates, including those from underrepresented groups.

In conclusion, HR leaders must prioritize diversity and inclusion in their recruitment strategies to attract a diverse and talented workforce that can drive the organization’s success.
